Do not provide schedules for lines that no amounts have been entered on or for lines that do not require schedules.
 - Each schedule must:

- Be properly formatted. This means that the schedules must provide an itemization listing each income category or expense category as it relates to each line. Listings of each deposit/withdrawal made and each check written or monthly breakdowns are not permitted.
 - Contain information directly related to the line for which it has been prepared. For example, the schedule prepared for line 11 should include entries for payroll and benefit expenses related to administrative personnel only. There should not be entries related to service personnel or custodial services, as neither fall under administrative personnel.
 - Clearly identify the source of income with the total amount stated for each category. This means to combine all like income, provide the source and informative description and state the total amount for each category.  - Schedules may be presented on individual pages or on a single page providing that the print is of adequate reading size and each schedule is represented individually on the page.
 - Allocations for Bar/Lounge, Bingo and Chapter Home/Department HQ Expenses:
 - Allocations for building expenses are necessary when one building is used to operate a bar/lounge and/or a separate bingo operation and conduct department/chapter business and meetings. Allocations should be made in accordance to how often the building is used for that specific operation. For example, a bar/lounge operation that is open 7 days a week would have higher operational costs (utilities, janitorial, insurance, etc.) than a bingo operation held 1 day a week. The individual allocations and amounts for each building expense must be identified on the corresponding schedule.
- Required Attachments for Banking:
 - A copy of the actual bank statement closest to the end of the accounting period (June 30) is required for each department/chapter/affiliated entity(ies).

NOTE: The financial report should be balanced to June 30 using the bank register(s), which accounts for all deposits and withdrawals made and checks written as of June 30, for each account. All deposits and withdrawals made and checks written on or before June 30 must be reported on the AFR, even if they do not show as clearing the bank on the June 30 bank statement, as the monies were received and expended during the accounting period covering July 1 – June 30. The amounts reported on lines 23 through 26, including cash on hand, the reconciled bank statements plus any cash on hand should agree with the amount listed on line 27 (Total Liquid Assets) of the financial report.
